HEAR THE GENTS ON KWKH

Once again, KWKH radio — 1130 on the AM dial — will broadcast all Centenary basketball games this year. Doing the play-by-play will be James Hawthorne. His exciting style and crisp commentary have been an asset to the Gents for the past three years. A family man, James is married to the former Phyllis Guidry and they have a daughter, Jamie Lynn, eight.

ABOUT THE BAND

Centenary College's pep band is a 32-piece outfit that has been boosting spirit for the Gents for the past 34 years. Led by B.P. "Bill" Causey, this group performs at all home games with the exception of those games played during the January Interim. They work with both the pom pon girls and the cheerleaders in routines ranging from rock to swing and jazz.

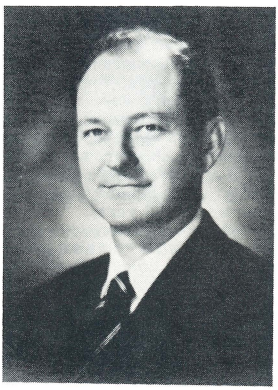
President John H. Allen



The history of this great institution dates back to 1825 and includes many traditions that we reserve as a part of our heritage. We are justifiably proud of our reputation for quality education, just as we are proud of the recorded history of the Centenary Gentlemen who have competed with honor on the fields of athletic endeavor.

At Centenary College we are interested in the education of the "whole man" and I think we would be remiss if we did not teach our students the values of the competitive spirit, physical discipline, and good sportsmanship.

Just as we are proud of the national recognition won by our football teams of the late 1920's and early 1930's, the winning records of the basketball teams of the 1950's (and, of course, our present outstanding team), and the baseball teams of the 1960's, we are equally proud of the hundreds of young men and women who have compteted without this recognition but who have learned some of the important lessons of life in winning or losing with equal dignity.

We are proud of our students and coaches who have won fame and fortune in the world of sports, but we are also proud of those who did not achieve this recognition but who have lived full and productive lives based, in part, on the lessons of good sportsmanship learned on the field of play.

I look forward to the continuation of the Centenary Gentlemen athletic heritage — a reputation based not on the won-lost column but on the competitive spirit and good sportsmanship that has been a Centenary tradition for 150 years.

John H. Allen
President

A LOOK AT THE PRESIDENT

Dr. John Horton Allen is in his seventh year as the President of the College, and during his tenure Centenary has undergone many remarkable changes. In the face of declining enrollment, the College has shifted its liberal arts base slightly to initiate several careers-oriented programs. The result has bee a larger studentry over the past two years.

Dr. Allen is a graduate of Southeastern Louisiana Universtiy, receiving his B.A. with honors. He continued his education at Louisiana State Universtiy, where he obtained his master's degree, and studied at Penn State University, where he received his doctrate.

He became the Dean of the University of Southern Mississippi in 1961, a position he held until he was called to Centenary in 1969.

Dr. Allen is married to the former Sidney Mitchell Gremillion of Shreveport. They have two children, John Horton Allen, Jr., 15, and Lisa Jane Allen, 12.

Larry Little Athletic Director Head Coach

Since 1958, when Centenary College became a major college in NCAA competition, the presentation of a consistently competitive basketball team has been a prime concern. A good roundball program gets the school's name before the public, it helps in recruiting new students, etc., etc. But being thrown into an intercollegiate cage with schools 20 times Centenary's size proved to be more of a dogfight than the Gents could handle year-in and year-out. Or so it seemed for 13 years.

Then, in 1971 Larry Little was named head basketball coach at Centenary. He was a fresh new face, having come to the College in 1968 as the baseball and freshman basketball coach. Earlier he had graduated from Illinois State in 1962, and received his master's degree from the University of Illinois State in 1966.

Little was more than ready when the Big Job came. After a break-even baptismal in '71-'72 (13-12), he piloted the Gents to seasons of 19-8 ('72-'73), 21-4 ('73-'74), and 25-4 ('74-'75). For a brief period during the '73-'74 campaign, Centenary reached dizzying heights — they won their first twelve games, carrying the nation's longest winning streak and being rated for one week in the Associated Press Top Twenty Poll. Last year they were in the poll for a month, reaching as high as 17th.

As he rolls into his fifth year as the Gents' mentor, Little has compiled a 78-28 career record (that's a 73.6 winning percentage), and he is looking for his 100th win this winter. Of course, he would like to have 105 by the end of the year, and with his returning players for '75-'76 the possibility looms large.

But if statistics speak well for a coach, they fall short in describing the man. He assumed the role of Athletic Director of the College in 1973, and along with continuing his scouting and recruiting, he has managed his jobs admirably. He has been an avid participant in the school's intramural sports program, and he finds time to show up at various cultural and social events.

But despite his various and sundry interests and his considerable involvement in Big Time College Sports, Little maintains a keen perspective on the role of intercollegiate athletics, in the overall picture of the college and he is always concerned about the student halves of his student-athletes. He has stated that "A boy has a right to an education and that is our foremost thought. If he can't make his grades, he is no good to us."

With this in mind, Little's office door is always open to those with academic problems. He finds help for those who need it, jumps on players who cut classes; and in four years as head coach, Little has seen just one of his charges succumb to academic overload.

Finally, Little is an outstanding family man. He is married to the former Diana Jacobs, and he has three daughters — Jennifer (8), Caroline (6), and Julie (2) — of which he is most proud.

GLENN EVANS
Physical Education

A 1969 Centenary graduate, Glenn Evans returned to his alma mater in 1974 to lend his energies in heading up the physical education department and reviving the soccer program. This summer he was also named head baseball coach at Centenary. He recieved his master's degree in 1970 from the University of Georgia. Evans is married to the former Diana Bloxom and they have two children, Chad (9), and Scott (4).

DR. BETTY HALEY
Physical Education

Dr. Haley is the advisor to the pom pon girls and the cheerleading squad as well as teaching a very full load of courses in the physical education department. She came to Centenary in 1974 via the University of Southern Mississippi. She received her batchelor's and master's degrees from Northwestern State and obtained her doctorate from LSU in 1969. She is married to Philip Haley and they have two sons, Phil (13), and Sid (5).

Riley Wallace Associate Coach Associate Ath. Dir.

Riley Wallace was first known to Centenary College as a lanky, flame-haired scrapper with the 1960-63 Gents. He was a three-year letterman and twice the team captain. He finished his career as the second leading scorer and rebounder in Centenary history at the time (he is currently 12th and sixth in those departments), and moved to the University of Illinois, where he obtained his master's degree in 1967 while coaching at Litchfield, Illinois, High School.

He returned to Centenary in '67 as an assistant coach, and in ensuing years found his jobs multiplying like a computer gone ape. He is now the Associate Athletic Director, associate basketball coach (working with both the varsity and the junior varsity), chief scout, and most importantly, the chief recruiter. It seems that the only thing he doesn't do is play the drums with the band at half-time.

This is not to suggest that Wallace is no more than a handy man. Most colleges employ five or six people to carry out the things that Wallace does alone. Centenary's small size precludes such extravagance, though, and Wallace is subsequently a very busy man.

He is undoubtedly most proud of his achievements as a recruiter, and well he should be. Wallace is the man responsible for bringing to Centenary the calibre of players that have turned a big-losing school (3-23 in 1968) into one of the biggest of winners. Depth has annually been one of the Gents' greatest assets — another indicator of a top-flight recruiter.

Of course, racing off to the farthest reaches of America in search of dribbling and shooting prodigies can take up a lot of time, and often he is obliged to scout about at the height of the season. But even with his frequent absenes, his JayVee teams remain conspicuously successful.

Wallace is married to the former Joan Williams of Monroe, and they have a two year old son, Robert Riley, Jr.

TERRY FINKLEA
Athletic Department Secretary

Heaven only knows what shape the Athletic Department would be in without the redoubtable Mrs. Finklea's skill, charm, and level-headedness. In her sixth year as the department's secretary, she handles all season ticket sales and home game tickets, as well as unscrambling and mailing athletic department correspondence. Terry is a graduate of Marshall, Texas, High and BMI Business School in Longview. She is married to Jimmie Finklea, an employee of Kansas City-Southern Railroad.

PAUL OVERLY
Sports Information Director

Overly took a flying leap from Centenary's student newspaper, the CONGLOMERATE where he was the sports editor for two years, to the Athletic Department as the SID in the spring of 1975. He is a senior history major from Gautier, Mississippi.

Outlook for 1975-76

The outlook is good. Frighteningly good. The Centenary Gents are coming off the finest season in their history — 25 wins, only four losses, and six returning lettermen, including three starters and the sixth man. They spent over a month in the Associated Press Top Twenty Poll and received votes all season long. This year will see the Centenarians present the tallest team in their history, and possibly their finest-shooting outfit ever. The defense, spearheaded by shot-blocking aces Robert Parish and Al Barnes, will be very solid; while the offense, which hit on nearly 49% of its field goal attempts and averaged 89.4 points per contest last year, has plenty of firepower in the persons of Parish, Nate Bland, Barry McLeod, and Bobby White.

PERSONNEL SUMMARY

GRADUATED: The Gents lost starting forwards Leon Johnson (drafted by the NBA Houston Rockets) and Jerry Waugh, along with guards Rick Houston (who started 10 games) and Dale Kinkelaar. Johnson led the team in scoring last year (19.7) and was second in rebounding (7.2). He was a spectacular player who performed coolly in the clutch. Waugh complemented him perfectly — a scrappy type who did all the little things well. Houston was a master ballhandler and an excellent assist man. His 61 assists were second-best on an unselfish team.

GUARDS: As Waugh and Johnson provided balance at forward last year, so Barry McLeod and Nate Bland offset each other as the guards this year. McLeod will be the quarterback as he has been the past two seasons. He handed out almost six assists per game last year and pumped in 10.4 points to keep the opposition honest. McLeod's "Alley Oop" passes to Parish are a sight to behold. Bland on the wing is a deadeye marksman. He was good for 14.3 tallies per contest in '74-'75, and by the end of this year will probably become only the ninth Gent to score 1,000 points in a career. Nate was named to the All-College Tournament all-star team, while Barry was an honorable mention. All-Louisiana pick last season. These two standouts will be backed up by sophomore LeRoy Hoggs. "Bug" is quick as a hiccup and comes as close to literally flying when running or jumping as anyone. He needs only the polish that experience brings to make him a star. The number four guard will be either soph Robbie Senn or freshman flash Dick Brown. Senn, a walk-on last year, averaged 13.2 points on the JayVee team last year and played a fiery brand of ball. Brown features a fine jump shot that helped him bring home 26 points per game as a high school senior.

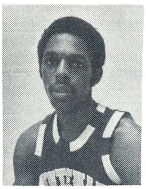
FORWARDS: Graduation didn't cripple the Gents as much here as it might seem. Five more than capable inside men will fight it out for the starting berths. Senior Cal Smith started 25 games as a sophomore in 73-74, but was forced to the sidelines last year because of a preseason knee injury. He's 6-8 and 225 pounds and plays all of it when he's mixing it up for a rebound. Al Barnes was 74-75's "sixth man" and proved himself a dazzling defensive player as well as a potential big scorer. His pirouettes and twisting layups were instrumental in his 52% accuracy and his 5.2 point contribution; they were also great crowd-pleasers. Also in the running is John Pitts (6-7), who this year sports a trimmer, faster body. He was occasionally brilliant, occasionally clumsy last year, and was often in foul trouble. But he plays a physical game, and consistency could win him a starting nod. Bobby White spent his freshman year on the JayVee squad, and he proved unequivocably that he is superstar material. He is an offensive machine — a fine perimeter shooter who can bull inside for rebounds with the best of them. The fifth candidate is forward-center Welton Brookshire, a (6-9) senior who is just now learning to use his abundant talents. He is fast, an excellent jumper, and a surprisingly good outside shooter.

CENTER: Robert Parish discovered, among other things, that he is the best center in the nation when he competed in the Pan American Games in Mexico City during October. He has more honors than you can shake a sweatsock at, and has been drafted twice by the ABA. During his Centenary career he has averaged 20.6 points and 16.5 rebounds per game. Last year he blocked 96 shots, including 14 against Northwestern and nine against tough Southern Illinois. You do not mess around with Slim. Big Rob may be backed up by either John Pitts, Welton Brookshire, or Cal Smith, all of whom have seen action in the middle.

SUMMARY: Last year the Gents lost four games by a total of 11 points. They outscored their opponents by 13.4 points per game, a tidy total when one considers that Coach Larry Little cleared his bench often and early. In '74-'75 they thought they might be unbeatable. This year they're pretty sure of it, and 15 well-placed points could make it so.

Meet the Gents

AL BARNES
Forward – Junior – 6-4 – 185 – Hempstead, New York



The spidery forward proved to be more than capable as the Gents' sixth man last year, averaging 5.2 ponts and 4.9 rebounds. "Bad News" now looks forward to a starting assignment. His twisting inside layups and shot-blocking have made his one of 'Nary's most popular players. Al is the son of Mr. and Mrs. George Barnes, born August 15, 1954. He is a physical education major.

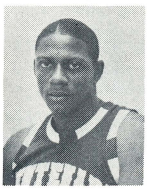
NATE BLAND
Guard – Senior – 6-2 – 185 – Albany, New York



"Snake" may be the best pure shooter on the team. Last year, he was given the chance to do what he does well, and he did just that: as a starting wingman, he canned 14.3 points per contest, including 26 against the tough Hawaii Rainbows. Nate has been good on 52% of his field goal tries during his Centenary career, specializing in long bombs and sneaks through the back door. You can expect more (and even better) of the same this year. A physical education major, Nate was born on September 6, 1953. His mother is Lola Bland.

WELTON BROOKSHIRE
Center – Senior – 6-9 – 190 – Huntington, Texas

The long, tall Texan lives in a purgatory of sorts – he is the reserve center behind Robert Parish, who happens to be the best in the nation. He pushed hard last year, though, and managed himself well in the nine varsity games in which he saw action. This year should see him log more playing time. "Bo" is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J.B. Brookshire.

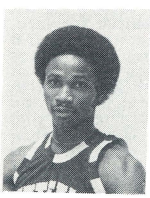
LEROY HOGGS
Guard – Sophomore – 6-0 – 170 – Albany, New York



LeRoy is one of the quickest guards to ever drop his sneakers in a Gold Dome locker room. He spent last year learning the system as a member of the JayVees, bringing home 15.8 points per game and 4.6 assists. "Bug" is now more than ready to make some considerable contributions to the Big Team. Born September 7, 1955, to LeRoy Hoggs, Sr., he is a physical education major.

Meet the Gents

BARRY McLEOD

Guard – Senior – 6-1 – 180 – Bridgeport, Connecticut

With 290 assists in his two years on the varsity, Barry needs only 97 more to break Melvin Russell's school record for handouts. He had 168 last year, including 14 against Hawaii. In his spare time as the quarterback of the Gents, he also finds occasion to drill home about 10 points a game. He was also one of the Gents' team captains last year, and will be counted on to provide more fire and inspiration this season. Barry is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward McLeod, first seeing light on March 30, 1954. He is a physical education major.

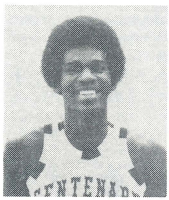
ROBERT PARISH

Center – Senior – 7-1 – 235 – Shreveport, Louisiana



Mr. Parish's collection of honors, newspaper clippings, and school records are really starting to clutter his room. He moves into his final year as a Gent after spending twelve most memorable months as the premier basketball player in the nation. With the Gents', Bob had his finest all-around year, ranking second in the nation in rebounding (15.4 per outing), blocking three or four games' worth of shots, and scoring 548 points on a well-balanced offensive team. But it didn't stop there. The summer was spent as a member of the World Cup Team, and the fall saw him elected captain of the gold-medal-winning Pan American Team. "Slim" has developed quite as expected: he is an intimidating defensive player, offensively he is dangerous far beyond his ability to lay the ball up or tip it in, and he provides plenty of inspiration on the floor. He was born on August 30, 1953, to Mr. and Mrs. Robert Parish, Sr. In the spring, he will receive his degree in physical education.

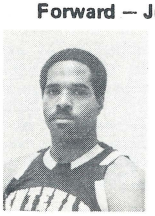
JOHN PITTS

Forward – Junior – 6-7 – 215 – Hempstead, New York



Big John had an up-and-down season in his first year on the varsity. As a reserve forward, he bulled his way through to contribute 3.8 points and 3.5 caroms per game, but he was often hampered by foul trouble. But he is capable of playing a physical inside game with the best of them and he is definitely in the thick of the five-man race for the starting forward slots this year. John is a physical education major, and the son of John and Elizabeth Pitts. He was born on November 12, 1955.

Meet the Gents

SAM ROBERTS

Forward – Sophomore – 6-4½ – 170 – Oklahoma City, Oklahoma

Sam has become an all-around man at Centenary. In addition to playing basketball, he also runs on the cross-country team and is pursuing a degree in chemistry. As the sixth man on the JayVees last year, he was good for 3.1 points per game and a like number of rebounds. He returns this season physically stronger and more confident. Sam was born December 16, 1956, to Mr. and Mrs. Howard W. Roberts.

ROBBIE SENN

Guard – Sophomore – 5-11 – 160 – Shreveport, Louisiana

Robbie was last year's big surprise. As a non-scholarship player, he won a starting berth on the JayVees and went on to average 13.2 points per game and lead the team with 65 assists. This year he was rewarded for his efforts with a scholarship, and he is now fighting for a spot on the varsity. Robbie is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Senn, born May 28, 1956.

CAL SMITH

Forward – Senior – 6-8 – 225 – Normal, Illinois

1974-75 was a lost year for Smitty. After being a starter in all 25 games as a sophmore, he injured his knee in fall practice last year and missed over half the season. He returned in January, but was only able to see spot action. This year, Cal is fighting to reclaim his job on the starting team. Coach Larry Little would like to see the big guy return to form and pick up where he left off after averaging 6.2 points and 5.3 rebounds in '73-'74. In addition to his forward chores, Cal also gives Robert Parish a breather on occasion, and his rough-and tumble style is sorely needed there. Cal is a psychology major and the son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Smith. He was born June 6, 1954.

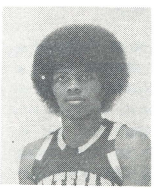
BOBBY WHITE

Forward – Sophomore – 6-6 – 210 – Springhill, Louisiana



Bobby was spectacular on the Jay Vee team last year, averaging nearly 31 points and 14 rebounds per game, and this year he will have great impact on the varsity squad. He is an excellent shooter and a very rugged inside player. Bobby may be one of the starting five for the Gents this year. He now knows the Centenary style, and he is becoming an aggressive defensive player. Watch for him.

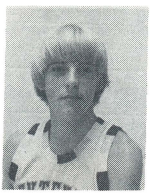
Meet the Gents

WAYNE ABREU
Guard-Forward — Freshman — 6-2 — 165 — Karamursel, Turkey

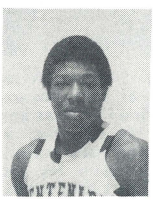


Wayne is a hustling swingman. He is one of three non-scholarship players vying for a spot on the JayVee squad. Wayne has displayed a nice perimeter shot in preseason drills, and he likes to move inside to fight for rebounds.

DICK BROWN
Guard — Freshman — 6-0 — 180 — Edwardsville, Illinois

There is a strong possibility that the stocky sharpshooter from the St. Louis area will be thrust into the breach on the varsity team. With only three veteran guards and Coach Little's penchant for using bunches of guards to ensure a fresh fast break, Dick's considerable talents may well be used on the big team. In high school he sported a 26-point mean.

LEROY CRATYON
Guard — Freshman — 5-11 — 155 — Shreveport, Louisiana

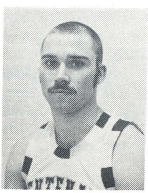


Another of the Centenary walk-ons, Leroy boasts a strong offensive game. He is not afraid to put the ball up, and his quickness points to a potential to become a good driver. "Bo" prepped at Booker T. Washington in Shreveport.

WALTER LOUIS
Forward — Freshman — 6-7 — 190 — Dallas, Texas

Walter is making a serious bid for a spot on the varsity roster in his freshman year. He has proven to be an able shooter, and he does a lot of the "little things" well — the effects of good coaching. Walt will be a man to contend with for the next four winters.

RICK MIGLIORE
Guard — Sophomore — 5-10 — 170 — Midland, Pennsylvania



Rick transferred to Centenary from Roanoke College this season because the Gents play a brand of ball more suited to his talents. He is quick, can go on the fast break, and drop in an occasional bomb. Since he is a transfer, he is ineligible to play this year, but in the next few years to come, he will be counted on heavily.

Meet the Gents

DWIGHT MYERS
Forward — Freshman — 6-8 — 190 — Sulphur, Louisiana

Dwight figures greatly in the Centenary future. His height and his ease oncourt are his greatest assets. When he gains experience and makes the transition from prep to major college basketball, he will be dangerous.

PAUL PATTON
Guard — Freshman — 5-5 — 140 — Shreveport, Louisiana

Paul is the third of Centenary's non-scholarship players. He is small, but he will more than earn his keep with his solid ballhandling, deft passing, and sharp outside shooting. Paul is a two-sport man in Naryland, playing second base for the baseball team.

Staff

KENNY NAFF . . . Trainer

Kenny is responsible for taping ankles, attending to injured players, and a hundred and four other items to ensure the health of the Gents. He has attended to the entire Athletic Department for the past three years admirably. Kenny is a junior from Houston, Texas, majoring in science and physical education.

DAVID DEETS . . . Student Assistant

David was a fine player for the Gents from '71-'74. He was co-captain of the team his senior year and was the starting wing guard. Deets has returned to Centenary to help coach the basketball and baseball teams and to pursue a second degree at the college in education.

HEAD COACH: Cliff Ellis (Florida State, 1968)
ASST. COACH: (unnamed)
ATHLETIC DIRECTOR: Dr. Mel Lucas
CONFERENCE: NCAA Independent
1974-75 RECORD: 19-7
NICKNAME: Jaguars
SID: Scoop Rivers
OUTLOOK: A rebuilding year is in the making for new head coach Cliff Ellis, who takes the reins of a team that has gone 19-7 over the past two years, but has been hurt by graduation losses. Gone are no less than six lettermen, including three starters. But Ellis does welcome back center Rick Sinclair (6-8, 230, 14.0 pts., 101 rebs.) and guard Albert Gardner (6-2, 14.0 pts.). They will provide a nucleus around which the Jaguars success will revolve. Joining them will be lettermen Gary Ledbetter (G, 6-2), and Olan Johnson (C, 6-7), and newcomers Ike Mims (6-7) and Jimmy Tate (6-4).

NORTHWESTERN STATE UNIVERSITY

Sophomore Lester Elie (6-7, 11.6 pts., 8.4 rebounds) will join him on the inside. The guards will be Lester Davis (5-9), who scored 23 points against the Gents last year in Natchitoches, and 6-3 junior college transfer Dan Bell. The Demons have no big centers, but they do have 6-6 Rick Reass and 6-7 Bernard Holder to hold down the fort at the post.

It was easily the harshest penalty ever meted out by the governing body. Coach Jim Hatfield, hired in July, 1974, has recruited 12 players to kick off the Ragin' Cajuns' comeback, and their progress through the season should spur wide interest.

Also on tap will be guards Hank Bauerschlag, Jeff Boothe, and Pat McClellan, and forwards Mike Lien and Gary Goodner. Coach Black used 13 different players as starters at one time or another during last year, and 12 of them are back this year. NICKNAME: Rainbows
SID: Ed Inouye
OUTLOOK: Two menacing men on the frontline and a walk-on who made good will keep the Rainbows glowing in Hawaii this year. 7-foot Tommy Barker (13 pots., 9.9 rebs.) and 6-9 Melton Werts (10.9 pts., 8.4 rebs.) are both excellent pro prospects, while Henry Hollingsworth, a 6-footer, came out of nowhere to give Hawaii a solid wing guard. After breaking into the starting quintet, Henry averaged better than 15 points per game. From there, Head Coach Bruce O'Neil looks to freshman Reggie Carter (6-3) to provide half of the backfield, and he's throwing the fifth spot open to whomever among 6-8 Paul Burnie, 6-7 Bob Manker, 6-2 Packy Ryan, or 6-7 freshman George Lett will claim it. As ever, the Rainbows will be tough.

LOUISIANA TECH UNIVERSITY

January 10 at the Gold Dome, 8:00 p.m.
LOCATION: Ruston, Louisiana
ENROLLMENT: 6,600
HEAD COACH: Emmett Hendricks
CONFERENCE: Southland
1974-75 RECORD: 11-13
NICKNAME: Bulldogs
SID: Keith Prince
OUTLOOK: Only a very difficult schedule will keep Coach Emmett Hendricks' Bulldogs from improving on last season's record, which included nine wins during the second half. Returning are junior front line men Lanky Wells (6-6), an 18-point scorer last year, and 6-7 jumpingjack Elliot Lawrence, one of the Southland's finest rebounders. Soft-shooting Mike McConathy will be one of the guards. From there, newcomers may well fill the gaps: 6-9 freshman Victor King could be the center, and 5-9 frosh Randy Carlysle may open at the point.

NORTHEAST LOUISIANA UNIVERSITY

January 15 at Monroe, Louisiana
LOCATION: Monroe, Louisiana
ENROLLMENT: 9,300
HEAD COACH: Lenny Fant (Centenary, 1950)
ASSISTANT COACH: Benny Hollis
CONFERENCE: Independent
1974-75 RECORD: 15-10
NICKNAME: Indians
SID: Bob Anderson
OUTLOOK: Northeast goes after its 15th consecutive winning season with three returning starters, including a pair of super shooters in 6-8 David Pickett (22.5 Pts.) and exciting 5-11 Jerry Jingles (19.0 pts.). The other starter is 6-1 Jerry Walker, a fine defensive player and a 7.2 scorer. The best bet to join these three is freshman Calvin Natt, a 6-5 forward and a highly-sought-after prospect. The center will be either 6-10 JC transfer Carl Kilpatrick, or 6-8, 230-pound Roger Green. Other returnees include 6-4 Ricky Rayl, 6-7 Steve Kamerman, 6-1 Charles DeLaCroix, and 6-0 Milt Andrews.

ATHLETES IN ACTION

January 12 at the Gold Dome, 8:00 p.m.

Also on hand are 6-3 Tim Teer (2.9 pts.), and newcomers Dan Carroll (6-7), Isaac DeVore (6-7), Gerald Douglass (6-6), Keith Harris (6-0), Jim Hyder (6-5), Owen Long (5-10), Michael Pratt (6-8), and Harry Sheehy (6-4).

The Opponents

1974-75 RECORD: 12-17
NICKNAME: Tigers
SID: Richard Bethea
OUTLOOK: Although suffering from a plentiful lack of height, ETBC found speed and good shooting to be a palatable combination for the second half of last season, when they won nine and lost six. Charles LeFall, at 6-5, is the only experienced pivotman. He will be joined on the floor by returning forwards Robert Owens (6-2), Marvin Graham (6-2), and John Brady (6-6), and guards James Rogers (6-1), Larry Allen (6-1), and James Terry (6-3).

ATHLETIC DIRECTOR: Dr. Ed Billings
CONFERENCE: NCAA Independent
1974-75 RECORD: 9-17
NICKNAME: Huskies
SID: Alyce Len Edwards
OUTLOOK: First year Head Coach Bobby McKinley is optimistic. He feels that he has been handed the best team that the Huskies have ever had. Returning senior center Robert Paige (7-0, 11.9 pts., 8.4 rebs.) has a lot of potential, and Ray Prejean (9.7 pts.) is a proven player. Two junior college transfers, Vernon Freeman (6-9) and George Campbell (6-4), are expected to move right in, as is freshman standout Spike Jones (6-6). Other returnees include Robert Druzak, Mark Osina, James O'Flaherty, John Seahorn, and David Prather, along with redshirts Thomas Norwood and Huey Smith.

ASSISTANT COACH: Preston Vice
ATHLETIC DIRECTOR: Russell Berry
CONFERENCE: NCAA Independent
1974-75 RECORD: 5-20
NICKNAME: Cowboys
SID: Dick Davis
OUTLOOK: Academic problems struck the Cowboys last year, devastating the squad and leaving Head Coach Russell Berry with only a shell of a team to play out a disastrous 5-20 string. Many of those who were lost to the team return now, including 6-6 forward Lee Dixon, who was leading the team in scoring and rebounding until the grades came out; and Greg Perry, another 6-6er who was a close second in those departments. Potential star John Blackwell (6-10) will be the center, while the apparent guards will be Johnny Harris, a 6-0 transfer, and Stephen Cooks, a 6-4 dribbler from the JC ranks.

UNIVERSITY OF SOUTHERN MISSISSIPPI

ASSISTANT COACH: Micky Harrington
ATHLETIC DIRECTOR: Roland Dale
CONFERENCE: NCAA Independent
1974-75 RECORD: 11-15
NICKNAME: Golden Eagles
SID: Ace Cleveland
OUTLOOK: Graduation took away a good portion of the Eagles' firepower, but Head Coach Jeep Clark feels that among his nine returning lettermen, he will find more offensive juice. His top returning scorer is 6-8 center James King, who put away 11.6 tallies per contest. Outside men James Palmer and John Prince shot for 9.7 and 8.6 means respectively, while 6-5 wingman Earl Lewis hit for 7.4. Other veterans at Clark's command are 6-6 Jack Hawkins, 6-0 Greg Prater, 6-2 Carl Strumillo, 6-8 Terry Branch, and 6-6 Barry Montgomery. A JuCo transfer, Jim Carlson, may also prove instrumental to Southern Miss' plans.

UNIVERSITY OF NEVADA-LAS VEGAS

LOCATION: Las Vegas, Nevada

The Opponents

1974-75 RECORD: 24-5
NICKNAME: Rebels
SID: Dominic Clark
OUTLOOK: Only one standout player graduated from the 24-5 team of Jerry Tarkanian over the summer, and the remaining six return to give the gambling town probably its finest basketball squad in its history. Leading scorer Eddie Owens (18.4 pts.) at 6-7 is back, along with center Lewis Brown (13.1 pts., 11.7 rebs.), 6-6 Glen Gondrezick (11.8) and 6-6 Jackie Robinson (11.0); while Robert Smith, who averaged 9.5 points and gave away 93 assists, will head up the guard corps. Boyd Batts, the only senior on the team, returns with his 9.2 norm, and he'll help out.

McNEESE STATE UNIVERSITY

HEAD COACH: E.W. Foy
ATHLETIC DIRECTOR: Jack Doland
CONFERENCE: Southland
1974-75 RECORD: 16-8
NICKNAME: Cowboys
SID: Louis Bonnette
OUTLOOK: Depth and a quarterbacking guard are missing, but with the presence of 7-foot Edmond Lawrence and 6-6 powerhouse John Rudd, McNeese's Cowboys will be tough. Lawrence averaged 21.2 points per outing last season, while Rudd bulled the lanes for 12.5 caroms each game. Along with 6-2 guard Larry Oney, (9.7), they form the nucleus of the team. Other lettermen returning will be 6-6 Roland Briggs, 6-6 Tony Chiri, 6-0 David Ellis, 5-10 Byron Gibbs, 6-2 Glen Hanks, 6-2 Gary Thibideaux, and 6-3 Chirley McLaurin.

All-American -- Robert Parish

Much of what one reads about Robert Parish is pretty unbelieveable, and those who have never seen him play are skeptical when they look over the press clippings and hear all the stories.

For over a year, a small band of Centenary boosters scattered across America have been maintaining that Rob is the best center in college basketball. They cite his improbable statistics, make case histories of some of the better-publicized games, and invite folks to come see for themselves. But being hidden in the north Louisiana woods has not helped Rob at all, and less-than-diligent panels of experts have preferred such people as Alabama's Leon Douglas when making All-American picks. Parish is usually found on the second team or as an honorable mention.

In October Rob proved that the All-American pollsters didn't have half an idea what they were voting for by snubbing him. He was selected to the United States Pan American basketball team, along with the more publicized Douglas, Rick Robey of Kentucky, and Wayne "Tree" Rollins of Clemson. The issue was settled quite quickly. Rollins and Robey made themselves comfortable on the bench, and Douglas, everyone's first team All-American center, was switched to forward. Robert Parish started in the middle.

It went further than that, though. Parish was also elected captain of this elite team, and it won the gold medal in the Mexico City games, defeating Cuba 84-78 in the finals. Parish led the team in scoring with 19 points in that one.

The small band of Centenary boosters scattered across America, with this empirical proof bearing out their long-standing contentions, are now happily sitting back and saying "I told you something like that would happen." Professional basketball, which has tried to lure Parish from college since his freshman year, will make him the first pick in the next draft.

The pros have good reason to want Rob as much as they do. He plays the brand of basketball that turns basketball franchises around. He's intimidating. He scores almost at will; he is a ferocious rebounder, if the opposition can get a shot off on him – Rob plays sticky defense, and he is not adverse to ramming a shot back in the foes' countenance. He has speed, and he can handle the ball: he is often seen leading the fast break, dribbling the full length of the court and laying the ball in. Nothing but awesome.

In his three years as a Gent, Robert Parish has turned Centenary around from a run-of-the-average basketball school into a national power. An inspiring leader and a brilliant player, his influence will be felt long after he leaves.
